

PASSION FOR PURPLE

Call for Entries

Do you have a passion for purple? Do you even think of passion when you think of purple? What emotions do the various shades of violet awake in you? How do you use them in a painting to achieve impact? Uptown Gallery announces the fifth in its series of judged shows concentrating on a single color, and with the coming of spring, what better color than violet or purple?

If you have works in which the color purple plays an important part, consider entering them in this judged show. Paintings, photographs, drawings and three-dimensional works are all eligible as long as purple is important to the work.

The entry fee is $10 for each of the first two works, and $5 each for up to three additional works. The show will be judged by Elizabeth Eubanks, art instructor at Uptown Gallery, and prizes and ribbons will be awarded. All participating artists are invited to the Feb. 2nd Friday night opening reception, when the judge will present the awards and discuss the entries.

The show is open to all Richmond metro area artists, and works can be delivered to Uptown Gallery, 1305 W. Main Street, Richmond, VA 23220, on Thurs., Jan. 25 and Fri. Jan. 26 between 11 AM and 5 PM, or on Sat. Jan. 27 between 11 AM and 4 PM.

As always, Uptown reserves the right not to exhibit works that don't meet its exhibit criteria. Suitability for family audiences and condition of framing are among the factors considered.
